

This ruling will do major harm to our engineering, land surveying, forestry and land use planning service business. In our work, the rule will not provide any protection or service to the public but will certainly discourage business and increase costs. A brain-dead ruling to say the least.